ROOSEVELT MAKES SWEEPING DENIALS

Appears Before Senate Investigating Committee to Answer Archbold.

DEFENDS HIS ADMINISTRATION

Bull Moose Denounces the Charges In Regard to Accepting Standard Oil Money for Campaign In 1904 As Infamous

Washington, Oct. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt, for seven years President of the United States, and candidate for re-election on the National Progressive ticket, occupied a witness chair for three and a half hours today before a Senate investigating committee defending his administration, himself and his campaign associates against what he termed "infamous charges," and "hearsay evidence." He appeared before the committee at his own request to answer statements made in August by John D. Archbold, that the Standard Oil Company had given $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund in 1904 under the impression that President Roosevelt knew of and approved acceptance of the contribution.

Not only did Colonel Roosevelt deny this, but he put into the formal records of the committee a sweeping denial that he had ever solicited funds from any one while President; that any money had been received by the 1904 campaign committee with an expressed or implied promise of favors from the administration; that excessive funds had been used in his 1904 or 1908 campaigns; or that money had ever been improperly used in his behalf, so far as he knew.

In reference to the Harriman fund of $240,000, raised in 1904, Colonel Roosevelt declared the statements of J. P. Morgan, George R. Sheldon and others had fully corroborated his earlier statements that this fund was raised expressly for the New York State campaign, and had not been solicited by him for his own support in the fight for the Republican nomination that year.

"There was not one word spoken by Mr. Harriman or by me having any reference to any collection of funds for the National campaign," he said, referring to his interview with Mr. Harriman in October, 1904.

"On the contrary, the request was from Mr. Harriman that, inasmuch as we had ample funds for the National campaign, and as the National campaign was safe, we could help him out in the State campaign."

The sessions of the committee were picturesque throughout. Colonel Roosevelt arrived at the committee room fully 10 minutes before the hour of opening.

His progress into the building was marked with cheers from a throng that surged through the corridors. Policemen kept a line of over a thousand people in order, while a hundred or so fortunate ones occupied seats in the small committee room.

Colonel Roosevelt was placed in a chair on a little square platform from which he looked down upon the table, at which sat Senators Clapp, Oliver, Pomerene and Paynter. William Loeb, Jr., his former private secretary, now collector of customs at New York, came with him and occupied a seat at his left. The former President turned repeatedly to ask Mr. Loeb for facts and records; and at the end of his testimony Mr. Loeb himself took the stand to corroborate statements Colonel Roosevelt had made.

Expressions that brought laughter from the committee and spectators interspersed the Colonel's remarks throughout the day. Once he said: "I have actually sent for, while I was President, trust magnates, labor leaders, Socialists, John L. Sullivan, 'Battling, Nelson,'—there was a pause, "and Dr. Lyman Abbott."

This was in response to questions as to the propriety of his sending for E. H. Harriman in 1904 to discuss matters of legislation or campaign affairs.

"If I am elected President," he added, "If Mr. Rockefeller or any one else wants to see me, I'll see him."

Again, when Senator Pomerene asked if some corporations did not expect returns for their contributions, Colonel Roosevelt declared emphatically: "As a practical man of high ideals, who has always endeavored to put his high ideals into practice, I think any man who would believe that he would get any consideration from making any contribution to me was either a crook or a fool."

And when the crowded committee room was swept with a burst of applause, the witness turned around and cried: "Stop that, please."

Paris, Oct. 4.—Marcel Thomas, the French welterweight, tonight defeated the "Dixie Kid" an American fighter in a 15-round bout for a purse of $5,000. The decision was awarded on points. The American had the better of the earlier rounds, but Thomas lasted well and was given the decision.

WOODROW WILSON ON THE WAR PATH

Library of Congress

ATTACKS HIS TWO OPPONENTS

Says Roosevelt Was Trusted by the People But He "Laid Down" on Them—Greeted by Great Crowds Everywhere

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Six set speeches were made by Governor Wilson today between Indianapolis and Chicago, in which he attacked his opponents, pointed out the evils of courts and the tariff as he viewed them, reviewed labor conditions and declared that the Democratic party now is out of bondage and prepared to remedy public ills.

It was a strenuous day for the Democratic Presidential candidate and after two hours here with Secretary Joseph E. Davies, of the National Committee and others, he left for Omaha and Lincoln, Neb. At the latter place he will meet William J. Bryan tomorrow.

Crowds greeted the Governor everywhere. As most of the meetings were held out of doors, the nominee had to strain his voice to reach the outer fringe of the mass of people, who spread out on all sides of improvised platforms. At Kokomo, Ind., he criticised Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt along the lines he followed in his Indianapolis speech of the preceding night, saying they had "presided over the very processes that had got the country into trouble.

"No man in the United States was ever more trusted than the leader of the third party during the seven and a half years that he was President," Mr. Wilson said.

"Is it possible that he has just discovered the deep needs of humanity? Is it possible that he now for the first time sees that he wasted seven and a half years during which he could have led the American people to any triumph of reform to which he had chosen to lead them? When I look at these two parties, I look at the top of them, and I don't see any more prospect in the one direction than in the other."

At Plymouth, Ind., the Governor said: "I have been much interested as I have traveled about particularly in this State, to notice certain posters everywhere with a handsome picture of Mr. Taft in the middle, and then on the other side a discourse about the high cost of living, with the interesting and measurably true statement that the cost of living has increased everywhere in the world. It has. But the interesting circumstance is that it has increased much faster in the United States than anywhere else, and in most low-tariff countries it has hardly increased at all."

"When I was told that I was going to speak at Gary, Ind." said the governor at that place, "I said I thought the United States Steel Corporation was all for the third party and I was told that made no difference; that the men employed by the United States Steel Corporation were free Americans, 21 years old and they knew how to take care of themselves."

"I want to ask the people in Gary if it is their observation that the employes of the United States Steel Corporation are better paid than the average of employes in the United States.

"The whole country knows that wherever it has business it depresses wages to the lowest level. Now the American Steel Corporation (I use it as an example because you know about it; I have no special brief against the United States Steel Corporation—if you manufactured wool here I would talk to you about wool) is one of the chief beneficiaries of the tariff and you have been told ever since you can remember that the tariff meant high wages to you. I do not have to prove to this audience that that is a piece of buncombe."

Talks on Labor Conditions

Plymouth, Ind., Oct. 4.—Governor Woodrow Wilson talked about labor conditions here this afternoon, arguing that the Democratic party alone had supported and aimed to assist organized labor. Governor Wilson said at Peru: "As we came along in the train just now, there were some young friends of mine accompanying me who perhaps I should say were indiscreet enough to spread Wilson buttons broadcast from the train as we were moving along and I was struck by the remark of one to whom a button was thrown, so much struck by it that it has stuck in my mind. He said 'I have no use for that, I am a working man.'

"Now, what can he have meant? Because it went very straight to the heart of a Democratic candidate to have a man say he did not want a Democratic button because he was a working man. It has come to a pretty pass in the United States, if the party that has always prided itself on being the party of the common people is now to be rejected by any member of the most enormous party of the United States. Because when I heard a man calling himself a working man I wonder what I am. I do not want to belong to an insignificant minority. Why the United States consists of

ENGINEER IGNORED SIGNALS

George L. Clark, of Springfield Express, Took Cross-over Switch At 60 Miles an Hour and Wrecked His Train

Westport, Conn., Oct. 4.—Testimony tending to show that Engineer George L. Clark, of the Springfield express, wrecked here last night, ignored signals set against him, and took the cross-over switch at high speed, was given today at the coroner's inquest into the death of seven victims of the wreck.

Bartley Gordon, foreman of a section gang, working in front of the station, testified when he heard the express coming, he realized the train was running at "an excessive rate of speed," and ran forward, waving his arms to attract the engineer. As the train did not slow down he was obliged to jump down an embankment to save his life.

Gordon said: "I knew the train would be wrecked, for no train could ever take a cross-over at such speed. The engineer was leaning out of the cab and he must have seen me."

When the engineer finally put on brakes, Gordon declared, the train had entered the switch.

Michael A. Coyle, a towerman, testified that three separate signals were set against the train to reduce speed. His records showed the train was going at from 50 to 60 miles an hour.

Coyle said that the first signal was half a mile from the tower. It meant, "slow down—you may have to stop or take switch."

When he saw that the train did not slacken its speed, Coyle said: 'I knew there was going to be a wreck. I opened my window and tried to attract the attention of the fireman. He was looking straight ahead at the 'dwarf signal' and did not see me. If the train had not been coming so fast, I could have saved it, by throwing it onto a straight track, where it probably would have collided with the Norwalk freight some miles down the road. But I had no time, for the train was upon me before I knew it."

Coroner Phelan will continue his inquest tomorrow.

No more bodies were taken from the wreckage today and the total number of dead is seven. None of the injured is reported to be in a critical condition.

Commissioner Will Investigate.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Inter-State Commerce Commissioner McChord left tonight for Westport, Conn., to personally investigate the disastrous wreck there yesterday on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

"I intend to be present at the coroner's inquest and to direct the official inquiry into the wreck," said the commissioner. "It is high time that all railroads should adopt means to avert such calamities. A precisely similar accident happened about a year ago at Bridgeport, Conn., on the New Haven road. Both were caused by the driving of the trains at recklessly high speed at cross-overs."

Recommendations made by the commission at that time, Mr. McChord said, had been disregarded absolutely.

"Had they been observed the probability is that the Westport accident would not have occurred," he added. "In this instance I shall endeavor to fix the responsibility definitely. It will be the effort of the commission to prevent the recurrence of such accidents. If the present law is found to be inadequate we shall ask Congress so to amend it as to give us authority to compel railroads to adopt such measures as will prevent useless destruction of human life."

SUBMARINE "B2" CUT IN TWO

Little British Naval Vessel Is Run Down by Hamburg-American Liner Amerika and 15 Men Lose Their Lives

Dover, England, Oct. 4.—Submarine "B-2" of the British Navy, was run down and cut in two by the Hamburg-American liner Amerika in the English channel off the Kent coast today and 15 officers and men who were aboard the little craft were drowned.

The commander of the vessel, Lieutenant Percy B. O'Brien, was among the victims, but, his second in command, Lieutenant Richard I. Pulleyne, was picked up after being a long time in the water. He was the only survivor.

Lieutenant Pulleyne was found floating in the sea too exhausted to say more when he was rescued than, "the submarine is cut in two. I went down a mile."

The "B-2" had left Dover this morning to participate with the other submarines in a series of maneuvers. The accident occurred an hour later, although none of the sister submarines knew anything about it until Lieutenant Pulleyne was picked up.

The young lieutenant collapsed after he was taken from the water and conveyed to the parent ship.

The Amerika stood by after the collision and threw life buoys overboard, while a number of torpedo boats, after being informed of the accident by wireless telegraphy, searched the sea for hours. None of the other members of the crew, however, was found, and no sign of wreckage was discerni-

OUTLINES

Col. Roosevelt appeared yesterday before the Senate committee investigating campaign contributions and entered a sweeping denial of the charges by John D. Archbold that the Standard Oil Co. contributed $100,000 to his campaign with his knowledge.

Governor Wilson spent a strenuous day of campaigning in the Middle West yesterday, making six speeches on his way from Indianapolis to Chicago. He attacked both of his opponents and talked on the high cost of living.

The European powers have reached an agreement as to the Balkan situation and hope for peace. The Balkan States have modified their demands on Turkey, which is reported to have arranged peace terms with Italy.

District Attorney Miller yesterday introduced in the "dynamite cases" a number of accounts which he claimed were appropriations for jobs made by the executive committee of the International Bridge & Structural Iron Workers' Association.

The British submarine "B2" was run down and cut in two yesterday by the Hamburg-American liner Amerika, 15 men losing their lives when the little craft sank.

Investigation yesterday of the causes of the wreck of the Springfield Express, wrecked at Westport, Conn., Thursday night, showed that Engineer Geo. L. Clark ignored signals set against him and took a cross-over at high speed.

Two trainmen were killed and three injured in a wreck of a Southern Railway passenger train near Cornelia, Ga., yesterday.

DYNAMITERS' ACCOUNTS READ

District Attorney Introduces Them as Evidence—Says Meetings Were Held and Money Appropriated for "Jobs."

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—Extracts from a little green check book in which the executive board of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers is charged with having kept an account of money paid out for dynamiting jobs, were read at a trial of the defendants in the "dynamite cases" today.

District Attorney Charles W. Miller told the jury that the executive board met regularly and appropriated money for explosives which was paid by checks signed by President Frank M. Ryan. One of the stubs read "Expended for organization purpose, $233, at Clinton, Ia." It would be shown, Mr. Miller said, that Ortie E. McManigal was paid that sum for an explosion at Clinton, and that "the whole system of explosions throughout the country was carried on with the approval and support of the officials and executive board of the union."

"We will show," said Mr. Miller, "that the finances of the Iron Workers Union were juggled so that the funds were used for buying explosives.

"The strongest stuff ever invented," was the way Herbert S. Hockin referred to nitro-glycerine, when he bought it to carry on a conspiracy, according to Mr. Miller. It was after dynamite was found to be "not strong enough," said Mr. Miller, "that the defendants in December, 1909, decided to use nitro-glycerine. The details as charged by Mr. Miller were: Ortie E. McManigal had been blowing up non-union jobs with dynamite and was in Chicago. In response to a telegram from Hockin he went to Indianapolis. "We have decided to use nitro," said Hockin "and we're going down to Muncie to get a supply."

"That's pretty dangerous stuff", said McManigal.

"Yes, it's the strongest stuff ever invented." They went to Muncie where they met J. B. McNamara. On a pretext that they wanted to experiment they bought from J. W. Kaiser 120 quarts of nitro-glycerine.

Moulton H. Davis, of West Chester, Pa., it would be shown, Mr. Miller said, was one of the men who promoted explosions in Pennsylvania. Davis formerly was a member of the executive board of the union.

When McManigal hesitated about blowing up jobs in Peoria, Ill., according to Mr. Miller, Edward Smythe, business agent there, wrote: "Don't fear. I have friends on the police force here. In fact, I control the police."

The first witness probably will be heard Monday.

POWERS HOPE FOR PEACE IN BALKANS

Coalition States Modify Their Demands, But Hostilities Continue.

ITALY AND TURKEY AT PEACE

An Agreement Between Them Has Been Signed, is the Report—The Ottoman Government Takes Warlike Steps.

London, Oct. 4.—A more hopeful feeling prevailed today concerning the Balkan situation, for diplomacy which is seeking peace, has made some progress toward a solution of the crisis. The arrival of the news that the powers had reached a complete agreement and that the Balkan States had modified their demands, was, however simultaneous with further reports of fighting on the frontiers.

The persistent reports that Turkey and Italy had arranged peace are believed to have had some influence on the Servian, Bulgarian, Montenegrin and Greek allies, who, it is assumed, will not be so anxious to tackle Turkey when she is free from the embarrassment of a war with a great power. In this connection it is now announced by the Bulgarian legation here that Bulgaria's demand is for Macedonian autonomy under the surveillance of the powers, similar to that existing in Crete. The original demand was for complete autonomy for all the Turkish provinces in Europe.

Turkey, on the other hand, has become less docile. With her hands virtually free from the Italian war and her people united in patriotic fervor to defend their fatherland, she appears bent on settling the Balkan question once for all by means of war. This explains the frequency of the visits of the Turkish ambassador to the British foreign office, where he was summoned yesterday and again today and had long conferences with Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

The Ottoman government also has taken further warlike steps, such as the suspension of railway communication with Servia and the concentration of troops on the frontier. It has instituted a censorship on telegrams, official and otherwise.

The armies of the Balkan States, especially those out of reach of the capitals, are proceeding to their allotted basis and it was reported this afternoon that a Bulgarian detachment had been seen at a point north of Adrianople, where it might at any moment come into touch with part of the Turkish army.

British Fleet to the Levant.

London, Oct. 4.—The British Mediterranian fleet was ordered today to proceed to the Levant, according to a news agency dispatch from Gibraltar.

The cruiser Weymouth, immediately left at full speed for Suda Bay on the north coast of Crete.

Italy and Turkey Sign Peace.

London, Oct. 4.—Peace between Italy and Turkey was signed at Ouchy, Switzerland, last night, according to a news agency dispatch received here from Paris.

CALLS MORGAN "TIGH WAD"

$100,000 Small Return for Tennessee Coal and Iron, Says Marshall

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 3.—"I read in the morning papers that Morgan gave $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund," said Governor Marshall, of Indiana, Democratic Vice Presidential candidate, at a noon rally here today. "If that is all he gave, he is a tight wad. He did not give half enough. President Roosevelt gave him the right, in violation of the law, to amalgamate the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company with the Steel Trust. That deal netted Morgan $69,000,000."

Governor Marshall devoted a large part of his speech to a criticism of the Progressive candidate for President. He declared that Colonel Roosevelt's controversy with President Taft and other Republicans was not a controversy of principle, but of personal interest.

The candidate arrived here shortly before noon from Boston, where he was the guest of Congressman John A. Thayer. He left late in the afternoon for Norwich. After addressing a rally there he was taken to New London for the second speech of the evening, going to New York on a late train.

SULZER A 3-TO-1 FAVORITE

Same Ratio Favors Wilson With Presidential Candidates

(Special to Baltimore Sun.)

New York, Oct. 3.—Election betting was light in Wall Street today. The only money shown was $10,000, offered on Sulzer for Governor at odds of 3 to 1. The odds on Straus are 6 to 5 and on Hedges 1 to 2. Sulzer is thus the favorite and Hedges the long shot.

The quotations on betting in the Presidential race are unchanged, with no offers made. The odds are 3 to 1 on Wilson, 1 to 3 on Taft and 1 to 4 on Roosevelt.

HELP WILSON WIN FUND IS GROWING

Teams Busy Organizing Yesterday and Several Contributions Received.

CAMPAIGN FOR THE PEOPLE

Chairmen of Various Committees to Meet This Evening—Much Work Accomplished Yesterday. Acknowledgments.

Quiet work among the committee featured the campaign for $10,000 subscriptions to the Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund from Wilmington yesterday and, although quite a number were made, no acknowledgments are made this morning, but the public may look for the list Sunday morning. With fund already over the $3,000 mark, the various teams feel that the remainder is certain and will approach the people confidently during the remainder of the whirlwind canvass of ten days.

The territory has all been allotted and solicitors will get right down to work today. Chairman W. A. McGirt issues a call for a meeting of all committee chairmen to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Room 514 Southern Building and it is hoped everyone will be present. The meeting will require but a few minutes, but these few minutes will be devoted strictly to business. Committee chairmen are requested to marshal their forces early and determine upon their plan of action. Already Wilmington has done much—even more than the whole State of South Carolina thus far—but she can and will do more.

Disclosures of campaign methods at Washington during the past week have brought the people to realize more than ever that if Wilson is to win, free and untrammelled—and it is the only way he has consented to win—the people whom he represents must furnish the sinews of war. Mr. Geo. R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican campaign committee in 1904, told the committee of investigation in Washington Wednesday that in 1904 the Standard Oil Company contributed $100,000 to the Roosevelt campaign fund: J. P. Morgan & Co., $100,000; H. C. Frick, $100,000 and Geo. J. Gould $100,000. Mr. Bliss, who was the treasurer in 1904, had shown Mr. Sheldon his report, containing the list of the large contributors in that year. He was asked what percentage was contributed by corporttions. This was his reply: "To be frank, 73 1-2 per cent." which moves the New York Times in an especially strong editorial Thursday to remark that it "appears, therefore, that about $1,500,000 of the Roosevelt campaign, amounting to over $2,000,000, came from corporation sources." The influence of big business, it is seen, is a strong factor in political campaigns.

If Wilson is to win without the aid of corporations and "the interests" the people must furnish the sinews of war. The opportunity is now and here.

STRIKE NOT SETTLED

Little Progress Made By Mediator Neill In Georgia

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 4.—Apparently little progress toward mediation of the differences between the Georgia Railroad and its striking trainmen was made by Dr. Charles P. Neill here today. Three conferences were held with each side, but the results were not announced.

Passenger service continued today( but efforts to start freight trains were checked. A train started from Augusta this morning was held up a few miles out and at the point of revolvers, the crew was forced to take a siding, where they remained.

Business organizations in towns along the line have appealed to the State Railroad Commission to come to their aid, but the commission is without authority to act in the matter.

Announcement was made today that the street railway company would start service on the Augusta-Aiken interurban line tomorrow for the first time since the trolley strike began more than two weeks ago. The cars will not be operated further than North Augusta, however. There was no attemt to interfere with traffic today.

Danville, Va., Oct. 4.—Roy Sullivan, the convict who killed Guard John C. Howard at the chain gang camp near Chatham on July 29th, was convicted of first degree murder in the Pittsylvania Circuit Court at Chatham today and sentenced to be electrocuted January 10th. He showed no emotion when sentence was pronounced. His accomplice, a negro, who placed the gun with which Sullivan killed the guard in a rock pile on a promise of being paid $300 by Sullivan, as convicted and sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary.

SPEAKER AND DOYLE WIN

Boston and New York Players Awarded the Automobiles

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Tris Speaker, center fielder of the Boston Americans, and Larry Doyle, captain and second baseman of the New York Nationals, it was announced tonight, are the recipients this year of the two automobiles awarded annually by a Detroit manufacturer to the two baseball players adjudged to have been the most useful to their respective teams.

The players were chosen in a mail vote taken by baseball writers who report the big league games.

Speaker took part in 150 American League games and in 569 times at bat made 218 hits for a total of 325 bases, scoring 133 runs. In extra base hitting his record shows 52 doubles, 11 triples and 11 home runs. He was credited with eight sacrifice hits and stole 53 bases for a percentage of .383.

Doyle, batting fifth in the National League, with an average of .325, engaged in 139 games, went to the plate 544 times, scored 100 runs and made 177 hits, for a total of 256 bases. He made 31 doubles, 9 triples and 10 home runs. He is credited with nine sacrifice hits and 35 stolen bases.

The prizes will be presented to the winners during the world's series. Last year the winners were Ty Cobb, of Detroit, and Frank Schulte, of the Chicago Nationals.

MONEY POURS IN.

Distribution of Tickets for the World Series Begins.

Boston, Oct. 4.—Distribution of tickets for the world's series baseball games to be played here went merrily on today. When the ticket windows at Fenway Park were closed tonight more than $20,000 had been received for the two days of distribution and about 5,000 tickets for the three games in this city had been delivered to lucky applicants. One-third of the reserved seat accommodations is now distributed. The remainder has been all allotted and the successful bidders have until noon next Wednesday to obtain their seats.

Among those who took tickets away from Fenway Park today was John Heydler, secretary of the National Baseball Commission, who went back to New York with several hundred pasteboards for the National Commission. He is satisfied the fans here will not suffer from lax management or the greed of speculators.

The ticket scalpers will be defeated this year, I believe," he said.

(Baltimore Sun).

Keeper Schipp, of Neuse river lighthouse in North Carolina, reported to the inspector of the Fifth district that the schooner Maria, Capt. John W. Potter, sprang a leak on September 28th and sank near Swan Island. The master and his crew of two men went ashore and took up quarters on Point Marsh awaiting the arrival of the revenue cutter Pamlico, which would assist them. The Maria is a small vessel trading in the Carolina sounds.

The rooms are newly painted, have hot and cold water and are well fitted for the purposes for which they will be used.

Killed on Railroad Track.

Parties arriving in the city yesterday told of the killing of a young white man named Malpass, of Wallace, by an A. C. L. freight train near Watha, N. C., during Thursday night. From what could be learned Malpass was at Watha and intended taking the night train for his home at Wallace. He sat down on the end of a crosstie near the station while waiting for the train and must have dropped off to sleep. A passing freight train during the night struck him and his body was found by the side of the track yesterday morning.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4.—Brigadier General Robert R. Evans, the new commander of the Department of the Gulf, arrived home today to assume his duties. General Evans is a Southern man, born in Mississippi and appointed to the Military Academy from that State. He was made a brigadier general in 1911.

LINE-UP FOR WORLD SERIES

Giants Figured In Last Year's Contest —The Boston Team

New York, Oct. 4.—Anyone who witnessed or followed last year's world series will recognize in this year's line-up of the New York Nationals every one of the Giants who figured in that six-day struggle, losing to Philadelphia, with the exception of Arthur Devlin, an infielder, who was traded to the Boston Nationals this year. The Boston team was mainly of the same makeup as that chosen by its former owner, John I. Taylor and, which finished in fifth place last year.

The line-up by positions will probably be as follows:

BIBLE ADDRESSES

Rev. L .S. Chafer and Wife Expected Today—Appointments Here

Rev. L. S. Chafer, of the Schofield Bible Institute, New York, who has been spending several months in connection with his work in the South, accompanied by Mrs. Chafer, is expected to arrive here today and will have apartments at The Colonial Inn. As previously announced the congregation of the First Presbyterian church is especially fortunate in having secured the services of Mr. Chafer for a series of Bible lectures all the coming week at the First Church. Mr. Chafer has visited a number of the leading cities in the State and influential Presbyterians in each of these cities have written to congratulate Wilmington upon the opportunity of hearing him. The first of the lectures will be given Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in lieu of the regular service and again at 5 P. M. Then each night during the week he will give a lecture and the public is cordially invited to hear him. On Sunday night at 8 o'clock the congregation of the First Church is asked to join in the ordination services at Saint Andrew's, a notice of which appears elsewhere in today's paper.

SIMMONS IN FAYETTEVILLE.

Spoke to Large Audience in Cumberland Yesterday—Applauded.
(Fayetteville Observer, 4th.)

Senator F. M. Simmons spoke here today in the LaFayette Theatre to about 400 or 500 people. He was heartily received by his friends, and they gave him quite an ovation when he arose to speak. His throat is in bad condition from constant speaking, and therefore he labored under difficulties.

Mr. A. J. McKinnon, of Maxton, made a short speech in presenting Hon. H. L. Cook, who introduced the Senator. Mr. McKinnon said that he brought cheering news from Robeson, which would give Simmons a big majority.

Mr. Cook made a graceful speech of introduction. He praised the Senator as North Carolina's most distinguished living statesman, and said that his services in the past had been of great value to his native State.

Senator Simmons made much the same speech that he has been making during his campaign. He was given close attention and was liberally applauded.

BIG CHECK LOST.

Newbern Contractor Suffers Loss in Kinston—Other News Notes.
(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 4.—R. L. Blalock, of the well known contracting firm of R. L. & J. W. Blalock, of Newbern, lost a certified check for $1,000 on Queen street here, during the busy hours of the forenoon. The concern of R. L. & J. W. Blalock was a bidder for the contract for the construction of a hotel at Hartsville, S. C., and the certified check was to be taken by Mr. R. L. Blalock to that town, to be placed with the architect in charge with the firm's bid, as a guarantee of good faith. The check was made payable to Ernest V. Richards, the architect. The contract is an important one, calling for about $75,000, and fortunately Mr. Blalock was not seriously inconvenienced by the loss of the check, he securing another one from Newbern and proceeding to South Carolina a few hours later. However, the loss caused him the trouble and expense of advertising and notifying the banks. The headquarters of Messrs. Blalock is at Newbern, but the senior member of the firm resides in this city.

Ed Murphy, a 15-year-old boy of Murray, was tried in Snow Hill on the charge of firing into a passenger train near the former place, and discharged. The load of shot narrowly missed the heads of several passengers. Murphy was known to have had an altercation with a trainman, and was arrested on suspicion, but there was no evidence to hold him.

The Kinston tobacco market up to October 1st this season, sold 5,000,000 pounds of tobacco, for $755,694.52. For the whole of last season there were 6,000,000 pounds sold, for $730,161,79. The five million sold this year brought $25,000 more than the six millions sold last year. The average this season has been over 15 cents, and this will improve for the rest of the season, as the grades of tobacco will improve. Kinston will sell about 12,000,000 pounds of the weed this year.

Three wagons of the Howe circus became stuck in the streets while being drawn from the A. C. L. yard to Mitchelltown, a suburb of the city. The first of the heavy vans to become stuck was a canvass wagon, which broke through in an apparently hard spot on East Washington street. The trouble was due to softening under the surface from excavation for sewers, and one wheel of the vehicle stuck fast until the six horses pulling it were re-enforced by six more. The wagon weighed seven tons. A cook wagon and water wagon broke through the street near the show grounds, and were left for several hours.

The yard of the Norfolk Southern is being enlarged in the vicinity of Kinston Junction, and additional trackage is being laid for the accommodation of the rapidly increasing freight traffic. Two tracks are being placed, one of which extends nearly to Neuse river, a distance of half a mile. The present trackage will accommodate about 300 cars, and the increase will enable the yard crew to handle at least 75 more conveniently. A car shortage which has been threatened has been relieved somewhat, and the additional facilities will give Kinston one of the best equipped freight yards on the Norfolk Southern system. With the approach of cold weather, ticket sales at the local depots are falling off considerably. At the Norfolk Southern station the passenger traffic, which averages about $5,000 a month from this point on the one road, is rapidly decreasing to the Winter low mark of about $2,750. The Summer business is greatly enhanced by excursions to the seaside resorts, and with the taking off of Sunday special rates to Norfolk, Morehead City and Beaufort the ticket sales begin to decline.

A handsome residence property on West Caswell street in this city, was taken over by J. B. Dawson from Wm. Hayes the consideration being $5,500. Mr. Hayes will erect a handsome residence on a lot on North Queen street, which he bought from Mr. Dawson. M. Goldstein purchased a desirable property on Independent street, near the Presbyterian church, for $2000.

SMALL IN WAYNE

Able Young Congressman Spoke In Goldsboro Last Night
(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 4.—Congressman John H. Small made the opening speech in the National campaign in Wayne county here tonight to a large and representative audience. He was introduced by Rev. G. D. Langston, an old friend since his boyhood days, who fittingly said in his introduction that the speaker had proven by his achievements that he was small in name only. Mr. Small is a pleasing and convincing speaker and the able manner in which he presented the issues of the campaign and principles that Democracy is fighting for, was enthusiastically received by his audience, as was evidenced by the rapt attention given him and the many bursts of applause.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Little Son of Mr. T. J. Hodges Injured Yesterday Morning.

The little seven-year-old son of Mr. T. J. Hodges, No. 705 South Fourteenth street, was knocked down and severely, but not seriously, injured yesterday morning by an automobile driven by Mr. Hardy Schulken, of the MacMillan agency, at 13th and Castle streets. The little fellow was badly bruised but no bones were broken. Dr. Ernest Bullock was passing at the time and gave the boy the necessary surgical attention, after which he was carried to his home where he was further attended.

Saved By His Wife

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F. "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me. A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsilitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50 cents and $1. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

MAY CHANGE ITS RULING

Definition of Democratic Ticket May be Modified—Wake Water Company Receivers—Fairs Successful—Notes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 4.—Indications are that there will be a modification of the recent ruling of the State Democratic Executive Committee as to what shall constitute "Democratic ticket," in qualifying to vote in the United States Senatorial contest.

It is learned that representatives of all three of the condidates for the Senate have agreed that there can be a modification on the basis that the National Congressional and legislative Democratic tickets must be voted and the elector must also vote not less than two-thirds of the State and the county tickets and vote for no candidate opposing those Democratic candidates on the State and county tickets scratched. It is probable that the State Democratic Executive Committee will be called together soon by State Chairman Webb to act on this matter.

Fred G. Boyce, of Baltimore, and Jno. A. Mills, of Raleigh, were named this afternoon as co-receivers with W. B. Grimes for the Wake Water Company. The receivers are to report to the court two weeks hence as to expert investigation of what is necessary to put the Raleigh water plant on a thoroughly adequate footing and recommend means of financing the improvements, whether by receivers' certificates or otherwise.

In the triple receivership Grimes represents the Wake Water Co. Mills of this city, and Boyce the bondholders of the water company. The city is fighting to get control of the plant for municipal ownership. Judge Ferguson heard the arguments this evening and made the order adding Mills and Boyce to the receivership, which is left in temporary status.

Commissioner of Agriculture Graham, just back from the Ashe county fair at Jefferson, and the Pitdmont Fair at Winston-Salem, says that both these fairs broke all records for attendance and scored high marks for excellence. The showing for the development of the sheep industry at the Ashe county fair was, he says, especially creditable and promising and the stock exhibits and agricultural products, generally, were quite good. At the Piedmont fair, Winston-Salem, he was especially well pleased with the exhibit of Holstein milch cows by P. H. Hanes, a collection of cattle, he says, that simply cannot be excelled. The general farm exhibits, too, were especially good. Major Graham found the people of the Ashe county section enthusiastic over the assurance of additional railroad facilities through a road building from Wilkesboro to Boone and Elkin to Sparta and westward. The grading and track laying for the Wilkesboro-Boone road is about completed across Reddie river.

A charter was issued today for the Carolina Hotel Co., of Greensboro, capital $100,000 authorized and subscribed by J. P. Sanders, Greensboro; T. A. Greene, Spartanburg, S. C., and W. C. Petty, Charlotte.

There is also a domestication for the Granite Hall Farm Corporation, of Virgina, capital $50,000, J. R. Paschall president. The corporation is a Richmond, Va., concern.

Some improvement in the condition of the two little sons of Democratic National Committeeman Josephus Daniels, is reported. They have typhoid fever.

During September of last year there were sold in Raleigh 3,300 bales of cotton and this September the sales dropped to 1,678 bales. This is taken to indicate that the cotton yield hereabouts is both late and very much smaller than last season.

The Raleigh police are preparing to pay special attention to any pickpockets that may make bold to look in on the State Fair October 14th to 18th. There will be a special "lookout" for all such and facilities for "nabbing" them will be complete.

COLORED BAPTISTS.

State Convention Meets in Durham—Arrangements for Meeting.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 4.—Of interest to the colored Baptists of the State will be the convening of the North Carolina State Baptist Convention, colored, in Durham October 16th to 20th, Rev. C. M. Cartwright, D. D., LL.D., presiding. Rev. L. T. Christmas, D. D., State Missionary, Raleigh, will be present. The Women's Baptist Auxiliary meets at same time and place and co-operates with the convention. Many of the most able and distinguished men and women of the denomination from various States will speak. This promises to be a great meeting for a general uplift of the people and will doubtless be largely attended.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have it Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4363 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

RAIN OR SHINE RAIN OR SHINE

Our Opening Sale of High-Class Residential Lots at private sale will take place at SUNSET PARK Monday, October 7th.

This is Positively the Greatest Home-Buying and Investment Opportunity Ever Offered either in or around Wilmington.

This charming new addition of beautiful home-sites is a natural park, endowed with Nature's most precious gifts—woods, lake, river, driveways and rolling topography. It's just far enough in the suburbs to be away from the city life, with its rush, clatter and dirt; yet within easy access to the city; a place where you can have a garden and flowers; where you can raise chickens and bees; where strong and healthy children can be developed; where good air, delightful breezes and healthful, sanitary conditions abound at all times.

Look Ahead a Few Years

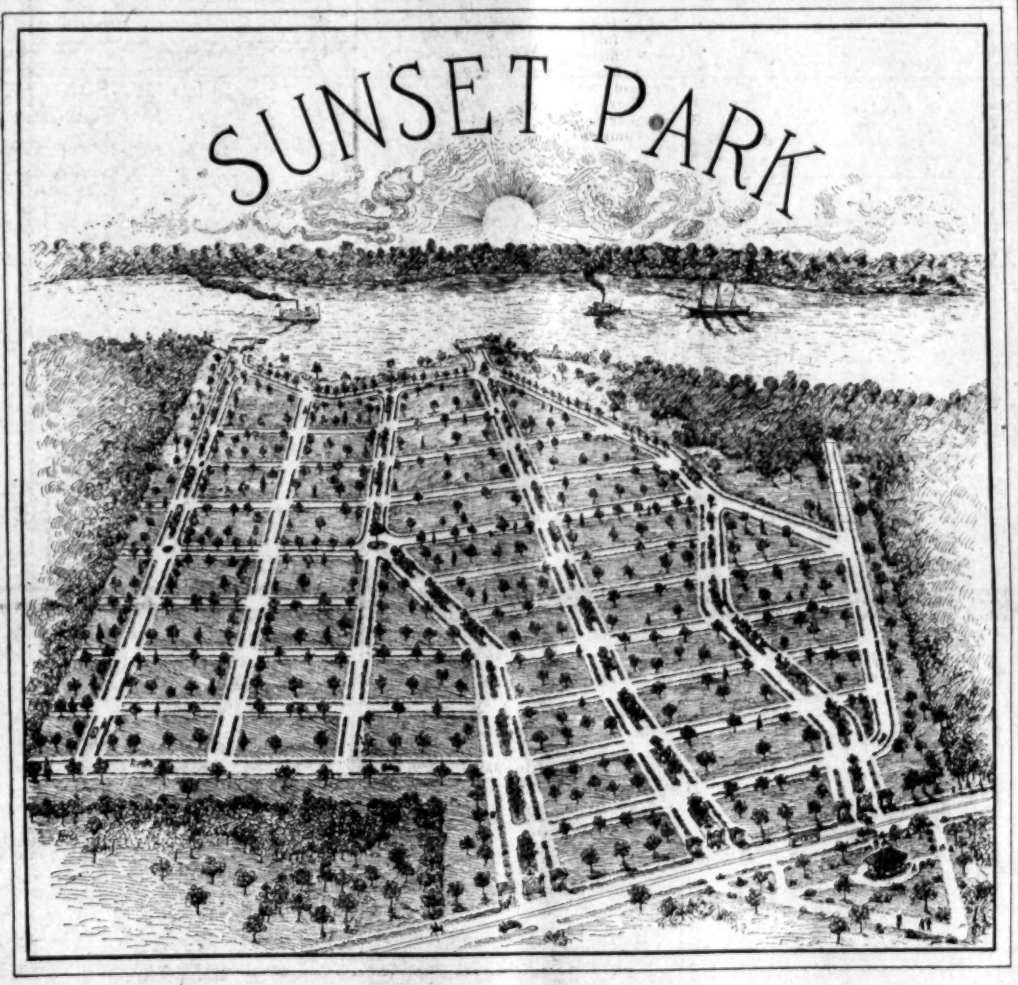
With Wilmington safely past the 50,000 population mark, what will values be then? Where will the suburban properties of today be then? Investors and Home-Buyers—we assert that the values of property in and all around Wilmington have JUST BEGUN to appreciate in relation to their future.. The values in SUNSET PARK are CERTAIN to increase—because of the many natural advantages, the ideal location, the modern improvements GUARANTEED throughout the ENTIRE PARK. The opportunities of today are growing less as the city grows larger and the suburbs further out. So, take our advice, and BUY A LOT IN SUNSET PARK NOW. Don't hesitate. Tomorrow is YOUR day of opportunity!

We will not ask you to take our word for anything we have said about SUNSET PARK; all we ask is that you come out to the sale tomorrow and see with your own eyes all we have claimed.



The Sub-Division Beautiful.

Why Not Own A Home

If you are a married man you can erect a home in SUNSET PARK and save your rent money. Why should you pay for the use of someone else's house, when you can have a home of your own for the same money? You can sell your home whenever you desire or can always realize something for your equity—but you cannot cash a bunch of rent receipts. It is easy enough to own your own home and have a good investment at the same time, once you purchase a lot. Start right and start now, while you can get your own selection of the choicest lots, and at the lowest prices.

Real estate is the best kind of an investment because it is the only absolutely secure investment on earth, industrial crises cannot wipe it away, fires nor floods cannot destroy it. It is something that can always be sold or borrowed on if desired, or you can hold it and watch its rapid increase in value, then at the proper time you can sell and take your profits.

Saturday, October 5, 1912.

It is not the fashion to be crooked any more.

Help to finance Wilson's campaign for the people.

The Colonel may as well turn State's evidence like the balance of them.

The full dinner pail is probably too full for utterance in this campaign.

When a man can't get out of it he tries to make out like somebody is a liar.

The fellow who is against us cannot be depended upon to honestly state our point of view.

With no money with which to buy votes, the floating vote will drift away for lack of something to anchor it.

The trusts are probably glad that they can not be blackmailed in this campaign. Nobody has been doing it this time.

At a Bull Moose powwow at Schenectady, New York, a man had his pocket picked of $179 in cash. What Taft man does he suspect?

President Taft in a recent speech called Woodrow Wilson a "perilous hazard." By the way, what is Roosevelt's Chicago name for Taft?

Don't you think it is your duty to make a contribution towards aiding Woodrow Wilson to restore the government to the people?

If we all sent out of town for everything we buy, Wilmington wouldn't be a thing in the world but a freight depot and express office.

J. Pierpont Morgan says he gave $150,000 to elect Roosevelt in 1904. Roosevelt has pretended all along that he favored publicity of campaign expenses, but after eight years Mr. Morgan for the first time has proven that Parker did not reveal half the facts in the case.

Mr. Straus, the philanthropist, nominee of the Progressive party of New York, is looked upon as a good man, but he has shocked New Yorkers with the suggestion that a progressive Legislature must be elected to back him. Even a good man with a radical Legislature is feared.

We do not like to hear Democrats chewing the rag. We have our hopes pinned on the Democracy and the triumph of its principles is worth more than the offices which cause so much dissension. Wrangling over offices is what is the matter with the Republican party in North Carolina.

It is now said that Great Britain has another scare because it has been discovered that if she got into a war she could not supply herself with ammunition. At the same time nobody is going to jump on our Uncle John Bull under the impression that he cannot get all the ammunition he needs in his business.

Dr. Wiley, the pure food expert, having abandoned Republicanism, is spelling for Wilson. Mrs. Wiley also is going on the stump for the Democratic nominee. People who are in earnest won't take any chances in this campaign. There is a crisis and only Democracy can be depended on to meet it successfully.

The Colonel had a conference with his managers before leaving for Washington to testify in the slush fund scandal. One of the four who conferred with him was Brother Perkins, of the Harvester Trust. Perkins is like a poor relation. He is always present when it might be better for him to amuse himself on the back porch.

LET THE SLUSH-FUNDERS DO IT

A Republican contemporary says: "Register and vote the Republican ticket." There is one class of men who won't heed any such advice. They are those who feel the pinch of the outrageous Republican protective tariff and who resent the Republican imposition of a tax on them to add more riches to the coffers of the already-enormously rich.

No man is apt to do that if he has opened his eyes to the fact that the Republican tariff makes the masses the victims of special interests and privilege classes. If independent men have to give up part of what they earn to enrich other men, they want the bloody beggars to hand around the hat and not be licensed by their government to make victims of the people. A thrifty North Carolinian could be a wool magnate if Congress were to pass a law enabling him to clip a handful of wool from the back of every sheep in America. We don't think any real bree-born North Carolinian is going to "register and vote the Republican ticket" so the beneficiaries of the tariff can roll up wealth at the expense of their plodding victims.

The masses howl for liberty but the classes howl for privilege. Those who want their individual rights protected by law, instead of having the privileges of the free-booters protected by law, will register and vote the Democratic ticket. Those who are willing to be taxed by the government for the government but who are unwilling to be taxed by the government for the special interest cormorants, will vote for Woodrow Wilson for President and elect Congressmen upon whom he can depend to carry out the Democratic platform which proposes to make the tariff plunderers take their hands out of the pockets of the man who has to work for a living without government aid.

What North Carolinian is so foolish that he is afraid he won't be prosperous if he does not vote to make the few enormously prosperous? Taft and Roosevelt are agreed on the policy of taxing the masses for the benefit of the classes under the impression that the prosperity of the classes insures the prosperity of the masses. What voter actually believes that all the people can gain riches and be prosperous by submitting to unreasonable and unjustifiable taxation for the benefit of others? The fact that the average man is living from hand to mouth and can hardly make both ends meet explodes the Republican idea that general prosperity is the result of levying high tariff taxes on the people. When such a tax as that gets to be too onerous, it is like the last straw that breaks the camel's back. The fact that taxation and the high cost of living have become so burdensome that wages and salaries can't foot the bill, is ample proof that the last straw is laid upon the back of a people who tamely submit to it for the sake of a prosperity that is conjured in the minds of those who are indeed prosperous by exploiting all of the people.

It is quite true that we have a certain amount of general prosperity in the United States, but who for a moment can believe that it comes from taxing the masses for the benefit of the privilege classes? As a matter of fact, there is not a particle of truth in it. Prosperity in this country is due to its enormous productivity and the industry enterprise and thrift of its people. Prosperity comes to us occasionally in spite of unjust taxation but it comes by reason of good crops and general production. Let the crops fail and prosperity vanishes in spite of Republican tariffs. That shows where we get our prosperity, and that it does not depend upon the Republican legislation that makes the rich richer, puts millions into the pockets of privilege, makes it possible for aggregated capital to create trusts and monopolies to prey upon the people.

The Republican tariff puts—not millions—but hundreds of millions in the pockets of its beneficiaries. It has concentrated wealth into the hands of the few and it will continue to do that. It is draining the pockets of the people and straining their energies to foot the bills of Big Business, and ultimately a condition of serfdon and peonage will be the result. Even now the free-booters have every one of us working for them and the conscienceless Republican party is cracking the whip. Concentration of wealth in the hands of the few logically will impoverish the masses as sure as fate, and no profounder truth was ever uttered than is contained in this one sentence, which we take from the Baltimore platform upon which Woodrow Wilson is standing: "The high Republican tariff is the principal cause of the unequal distribution of wealth."

There is something woefully wrong about a system which enables individual men to contribute such vast sums as $100,000 to $180,000 as their personal aid towards keeping the Republican party in power. It proves their tremendous obligations to that party, and it is they and not the people who should "register and vote the Republican ticket." In his testimony before the Senate Investigation committee at Washington, on Thursday of this week, J. Pierpont Morgan, under oath, testified that he contributed out of his own wealth the vast sum of $180,000 to elect Roosevelt and Taft to handle the destinies of a presumably free people! No wonder the Bull Moose never insisted upon tariff relief for the toiling masses. No wonder that he stands as pat as Taft does today. No wonder that Taft boldly soused his pen in ink and drew veto strokes across Democratic bills lightening the burdens of the grievously-pressed masses. Taft's pen saved the protected barons and they get "theirs" by official and party favors, but so-called "protected" labor gets "theirs" by long and patient seiges upon the first-hand receivers of the tariff and finally by strikes which are getting to be so serious in their magnitude and dire results that they are more and more partaking of the nature of revolutionary movements.

"Register and vote the Republican ticket?" What for? Let the Morgans, the Rockefellers, and the Perkinses do it. They are the men to vote for Taft and the Bull Moose, who stand pat on tariff graft.

SCIENTIFIC TIMBER GROWING.

The Manufacturers' Record, referring to Mr. George W. Vanderbilt's forestry experiments in the mountains of North Carolina, makes the valuable suggestion that it is time for the South to adopt some scientific method of handling its forests and conserving its timber resources. The Star recently published the announcement that Mr. Vanderbilt had sold the timber rights on his mountain lands near Asheville for $816,000. The parties who purchased the timber on 68,000 acres of land will have 12 years in which to cut trees of a certain size without destroying the smaller growth.

It is stated that 20 years ago Mr. Vanderbilt purchased his North Carolina land for $2 an acre, paying something like $136,000 for his land. He now sells a part of his standing timber at a clear profit of $12 an acre, while his land and the young timber remain as his permanent asset. In the meantime, another valuable crop of timber will be growing and in all probability in another twenty years, Mr. Vanderbilt will have another timber crop which will bring him as much as his present crop brought.

Mr. Vanderbilt has shown North Carolinians what scientific handling of forests is worth. The growing timber on every acre of land in North Carolina is a crop worth looking after, and yet how indifferent, careless, and prodigal we are with our long leaf pine forests in eastern North Carolina. Instead of following the scientific method of preserving our forests, growing timber and preventing destruction of the forests by fire and vandalism, we have never taken their value into consideration. How long will it be before we will have no forests worthy of the name?

In fact, we no longer see the great forests of immense, tall pines which once spread over hundreds of miles of territory, and which impressed the beholder with a sense of profoundness, because of the giant pines which towered into the soughing wind. The Manufacturers' Record reminds us that it is time to take steps to preserve and conserve our timber resources, and in doing so it warns us as follows:

"Since the beginning of the present century, the South, which in 1880 was cutting 3,810,000,000 feet of lumber, or only 21 per cent. of the total cut of the country, has increased its annual cut from 14,500,000,000 feet to 21,000,000,000, and is now cutting more than 50 per cent. of the total cut of the country. The steady increase of the demand upon the South's timber resources thus indicated is enough to spur far-sighted owners of timber to adopt a scientific method, which is in reality a really practical method, of handling their property. Of the original woodland of the South, 258,700,000 acres, or something less than 46 per cent., remain. Heretofore much of the forest wealth of the South has been handled like a mine, to be worked until exhaustion is reached. The remaining area can be worked like a farm, in which event it would become an unfailing source of wealth, greater than the amount represented in the output today of all the coal mines in the country."

Forest owners should set aside certain areas for timber crops, and as fast as merchantable timber is removed, another tree should be grown in its stead. Some attention should be given to the forests in order to give the growing trees a chance, and as a crop our forest owners would find that it would be as valuable as Mr. Vanderbilt's crop. Twenty years brought him a fortune from his young forests.

THE SPECIAL PRIVILEGE CANDIDATES.

Most of the campaign fire is leveled at Col. Roosevelt, because Taft needs very little attention in addition to what he has done to himself during the past three years. His failure to carry out his promise of tariff revision, his emphatic endorsement of the Aldrich tariff bill, and his vetoes of Democratic tariff bills passed in the interest of the government and the people, are too fresh in the minds of the people for them to take his re-election seriously. When a candidate has eliminated himself by his own acts and dug his own political grave, what's the use to waste time by shoving him into it?

In the meantime, Roosevelt is trying to save the Republican protective tariff under the false pretense of progressiveness, and is engaged in a propaganda that is subversive of the constitutional safeguards provided for the protection of the people. Roosevelt's new proposition is for the Federal government to incorporate trusts and monopolies in order that the government can supervise them and keep them in business, instead of destroying them under laws enacted for that purpose. Monopolies bolstered up by conspiracies to violate the law, are criminal organizations which are exploiting the people and if they can not destroy them by law, the time is coming when they will have to do it by revolution.

The Bull Moose's ambition is to be the first American President to serve a third term and to make the terms of Presidents as long as that of President Diaz, of Mexico, and his bold plan to legalize unlawful and lawless monopolies is dangerous to American institutions and menacing to popular liberty. While Roosevelt was President for two terms he pretended to be a trust buster, but while he was posing as the protector of the public, more trusts were organized than had ever been organized during any other period in the history of the country.

This shows that his trust policy was inefficient, and the fact that the trusts poured out hundreds of thousands of dollars to elect Roosevelt would indicate that the trusts took him for a joke or that they naturally understood each other.

The Bull Moose is beating the bushes to keep out of the way of the tariff, and he is talking about social and industrial justice which ought to make good subjects on the chautauqua circuit. The people ought not let themselves be fooled by the burning of red lights to draw their attention away from the fact that this campaign is for the restoration of the government to the people.

Mr. Oscar B. Straus, Bull Moose candidate for Governor of New York, has gone on the stump and in his first speech he said Mr. Hedges, his Republican opponent, is a pygmy. Mr. Straus seems to know the Bull Moose vocabulary.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Senator Dixon personally spent nearly a hundred thousand dolars on the Bull Moose's pre-convention candidacy. Which goes to show that some statesmen have more money than brains.—Raleigh Times.

The largest amount yet contributed to the North Carolina Democratic campaign fund this Summer was given by a Republican who left the Democracy in 1892 and has returned to the party this year to help elect Wilson.—Kinston Free Press.

Iredell Meares declares that there will be no compromise between Progressives and standpatters in North Carolina. While neither Meares nor Settle will receive a plurality of the votes cast, the race will be between the "wings" of the old Republican party to see which one can make the better showing.—Kinston Free Press.

Collier's Weekly is this week attempting to prove that certain letters alleged to have been secured by Mr. Hearst and published in his magazine are rank forgeries. The matter relates to John D. Archbold Boise Penrose and others and indirectly to Col. Roosevelt. We cannot vouch for the declarations of either of the famous publishers, but from this angle it seems that Mr. Hearst has simply out-muckraked Mr. Collier.—Raleigh Times.

The Hon. Thomas Settle spoke in Charlotte last night to a large crowd in advocacy of his claim for Governor on the Taft ticket. The Observer compliments him, but says there was a feeling of disappointment that he did not exactly seem himself. This is explainable. He knows he is as one without hope; he is lost and he cannot "rise" to his usual height. In former days a Republican candidate for any office worked as earnestly as if sure of his election, because behind it was a job from the administration. This year the whole outfit realizes that there is no chance for Taft, hence the dejection. The only thing the Taft candidates can hope for is that by remaining regular—that is to say, by standing by the old ship—they will have a front seat next to the victuals when the G. O. P. comes into its own—if it ever does.—Greensboro Record, Oct. 3rd.

It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Roosevelt will have to say about the contributions to his 1904 campaign fund when he takes the witness stand tomorrow. Certainly the case against him is blacker today than it has ever been. It is not merely the fact that what has long been suspected has now been established, that it is now known that the Standard Oil Company did give its $100,000 to elect Roosevelt President, that Frick and Gould each gave the same amount, and that Morgan gave $150,000; nor is it the other fact that 73 1-2 per cent. of the total fund was furnished by the corporations; it is not altogether these things that cause doubts of Mr. Roosevelt's sincerity stronger than any which have heretofore been felt by the American people. It is the further fact, in connection with these, that Mr. Roosevelt's action in reference to the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company's absorption and his extended correspondence with Mr. Harriman on the subject of various appointments indicate pretty strongly that he felt his obligations to these men and was ready to repay them. He has always displayed a considerable ingenuity in wriggling out of embarrassing situations. But he has never before had a situation like this to wriggle out of.—Baltimore Sun.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN MONDAY

Teachers Will Meet at Respective Buildings Today for Consultation and Instruction With Regard to Programme.

The graded schools of the city will open Monday for the Fall term as announced some weeks ago. Mr. John J. Blair, the superintendent, is preparing for a record enrollment and he expects the average attendance this year to be higher than usual. The teachers will meet this morning at 11 o'clock at their respective buildings for consultation and instruction with regard to the programme for Monday. Mr. Blair yesterday issued the following statement relative to the arrangements for the opening:

"All pupils who have never attended school before may report for classification at the building which they expect to attend at any hour between 9 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning. That is, those who expect to enroll in the High School may report at the High School building, those who will attend the Hemenway will be given cards at the Hemenway building, and those for the Union will receive their admission cards by presenting themselves at the Union school.

"The attention of patrons in the new school district recently established by the County Board of Education which includes the Carolina Heights neighborhood and that section of the city east of the center of Eighth street, is called to this particular notice:

"Namely, That pupils for the Isaac Bear Memorial School need not report to their building until next Monday at 9 o'clock at which time the grading will be done and assignment to classes made. It is understood, of course, that only pupils in the first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be received in this building, accommodations having been provided at the Union, Hemenway and High Schools for all above the grades mentioned.

"The furniture, heating plant, and equipment of the new school building is the best in the city and it is the purpose of the school committee to conduct in this building a model school whose standard of excellence is high and one of which both pupils and patrons may well feel proud.

"Instead of meeting at the new building tomorrow the teachers for this school will meet with Miss Hill, the principal, at the Union building at 11 o'clock.

THE SEWERAGE SITUATION

Nothing Heard From Bondholders Yesterday—Matters in Status Quo—As Viewed by the City Council.

The news in yesterday's Star that further delay in turning over the sewerage plant to the city of Wilmington had been caused by the refusal of the Wilmington Sewerage Company to give $10,000 bond to indemnify the municipality against any possible suits that may be brought against the corporation within 60 days from date of sale of the system, was received with the greatest displeasure, almost disgust, by the people generally of the city, who had hoped and had reasons to believe that the sewerage question had been settled.

Not a few were outspoken in their denunciation of the sewerage company. Some there were who rather took the side of the sewerage company on the ground that when Mr. W. B. Smith, of the bondholders' committee, came here he did not anticipate a bond of this kind and really had no authority to give the city a definite answer either way without consulting the other members of the committee, which he said he would do upon his return to Philadelphia. He left here for Philadelphia Thursday night and should have arrived there yesterday. Nothing had been heard from him up to last night, but members of Council expressed themselves last night as being strongly of the opinion that the bond would be given within the next few days when the formal transfer of the plant to the city would be completed. The Council appears to regard the city as having the better end of the proposition at this stage of the proceedings and they say that the sewerage company cannot afford, for many reasons, not to give the small and altogether reasonable bond that is required to indemnify the city in case action is brought against the corporation within 60 days from the sale. However, members of Council say that if it comes to a fight, if the sewerage company attempts, as it appears on the surface that it will, to collect double rates for the quarter beginning October 1st, the city will step in with all of its legal talent and secure more if necessary to protect the interests of its citizens.

It is stated that the plan of the Council would not be to advise the citizens not to pay the double rate, if demanded by the sewerage company before the transfer of the property is made, but that notices will be issued to all patrons of the company to the effect that any amount paid to the sewerage company will not absolve them from paying to the city the rent for the quarter in the event the plant is turned over before the end of this period.

Mr. Congers, representing the West End Trust Company, of Philadelphia, which company will act as trustee for the bonds that have been issued by the sewerage company to cover the mortgage that will be held on the property, is said to have stated while here Thursday with Mr. Smith, that the bond of $10,000 would simply have to be given as demanded. The West End Trust Company, which held the $150,000 worth of bonds of the old Wilmington Sewerage Company, has cancelled all the bonds except one for $500, according to information conveyed to the City Council Thursday. It is said that this is one reason that will cause the West End Trust Co., to insist upon the sewerage company giving the small indemnity bond. The trust company would have to go through court proceedings to re-establish or re-habilitate the bonds that have been cancelled, it is said.

Mayor Smith was frank to say yesterday that he believed the bond required by the city would be forwarded by the sewerage company within a few days, at which time the city would formally take over the plant and pay to the company $30,000, representing the first payment.

The statement was made at the City Hall yesterday that while the city is not actually in possession of the sewerage system yet at the same time it has some of the tools, etc., that were turned over to it by the sewerage company a few days ago when it was thought that the transfer of the whole business would be made in a day or two. The sewerage company let Mr. Arthur W. Branch and two laborers go as it was not thought that their services would be needed any longer. They were promptly employed by the city and were engaged yesterday in making new sewer connections. So in a way the city has already assumed charge of the plant. It will continue to make sewer connections unless stopped by the courts. Mr. W. E. Merritt, superintendent of the Wilmington Sewerage Co., who announced Thursday night that he had been instructed by his company to proceed to collect sewerage rents for this quarter at double rates, yesterday had a talk with Justice George Harriss relative to the matter of issuing warrants against Mr. Branch and the workmen or officials of the city for making the sewer connections referred to above. There is a city ordinance relative to making sewer connections, but Mr. Merritt did not ask for any warrants. He was merely getting information with a view possibly of using it later if necessary.

The position of Mr. Merritt in the matter was discussed at the City Hall yesterday among the Councilmen. They stated that they had told Mr. Merritt that they did not blame him for the steps he is taking in the matter, for they realized that he was merely acting under orders from his employers. It is the purpose of the City Council when the sewerage system is transferred to retain Mr. Merritt in the sewerage department for the present at least.

There was an informal conference at the City Hall yesterday afternoon among members of the Council, the city attorneys and Iredell Meares, Esq., attorney for the bondholders' committee. Mr. Meares stated that he had written Mr. Smith in Philadelphia and that he should receive the letter last night or today. He expected the matter to be adjusted within a few days.

BIG EVENT NEAR AT HAND

Eastern District Fair Opens at Highwood Park, This City, Monday Morning—Special Train of Shows Comes Today

With the arrival today of a special train from Winston-Salem bringing a number of shows that were there on the midway during the Piedmont Fair this week, Highwood Park, just east of the city, will take on a fair-like air and it is expected that everything will be in readiness—all the shows running and exhibits in place—by Monday morning, when the Eastern District Fair opens. The special train from Winston-Salem will arrive either this morning or afternoon depending upon whether or not the show people had a chance to load the cars last night. There are 10 or 12 shows from Winston-Salem and one from Burlington fair, besides a number from Columbus, Ohio, and other points in the West.

Among the free attractions on the grounds on the day will be balloon ascensions, being what is known as the double parachute drop, this daring exhibition being put on by Walter Raub, of Columbus, Ohio, and an assistant; the "Leap for Life," the high dive, horse racing and others, while Wednesday and Thursday nights the free attraction will be a brilliant display of fireworks put on by the International Fireworks Company, of Jersey City. The programme is very elaborate and will surpass anything in the way of fireworks seen in this part of the country, it is said. Most of the fireworks will be on the ground, but there will be some aerial pieces.

The many attractive features promised for the fair have been mentioned in The Star from day to day. It was decided yesterday that Congressman H. L. Godwin will speak on Thursday at 2:30 P. M. The distinguished visitor will be met at the union station Thursday morning by a number of prominent citizens and escorted to the grounds. During the day a parade will take place in the city. Participating will be 300 troops from Fort Caswell, members of the police and fire departments, the latter with the fire apparatus. On the grounds in the afternoon, probably beginning at 3:30 o'clock, there will be a sham battle between two divisions of the troops. This promises to be one of the most interesting features of the amusement side of the fair. The troops will arrive here Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, coming up on the steamer Wilmington, which will make a special trip, leaving the fort at 6 A. M.

A number of agricultural exhibits have already been received and it is expected that a great many more will be put in place today, if the weather is favorable. The management of the fair continues to receive reports that large crowds will come from the surrounding counties.

"A No. 1" STILL LIVES

The King of Tramps Was Not Killed in Wreck In Texas

A few days ago The Star reproduced an article from the Savannah Morning News giving an account of the reported death in Texas of "A No. 1," the prince of tramps, who has visited Wilmington two or three times in his travels, and below is given an article from a later issue of the same paper bearing the news that the well-known wanderer still lives, having been in Maine at the time he was supposed to have been killed in Texas. The article follows:

"The report of the death of 'A No. 1' in Texas a few days ago was 'greatly exaggerated.'

"'A No. 1' was nearly as far from Texas at the time of the tragedy there as it was possible for him to be and not get outside of the United States.

"He was in Bangor, Maine, last Saturday, and the Saturday before that he was in Boston, Mass. The information came to Chief Special Agent G. S. Godbold, of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad yesterday.

"Mr. Godbold and 'A N. 1' have been warm friends for about six years. During that time the king of tramps has kept the Coast Line agent posted on his whereabouts by mailing postcards to him every week or so. He sent the officer a card Saturday, Sept. 21st, from Boston, and Mr. Godbold received another card yesterday morning with a Bangor postmark on it.

"'A No. 1' wrote on the card that he was in Bangor where a big carnival was in progress. He was preparing to leave Bangor for points in New Brunswick when he sent the card. The journeyman hadn't heard of his death, as he made no mention of it on the last post card to Chief Godbold.

"It is Chief Godbold's belief that it was one of 'A No. 1's' impersonators who met death in Texas. There are said to be not a few unscrupulous nomads who make their way on the good reputation of 'A No. 1.'"

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Negro Given Six Months on Roads for Assault on a Female.

Recorder Furlong had only a few cases for his consideration yesterday morning. Chas. Holladay, colored, drew a long sentence, getting six months on the roads for assault on Mary Jones, colored, whom he is alleged to have knocked down and beaten up pretty badly. He gave notice of an appeal, but later changed his mind and will serve the sentence. Willie Burney, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon Lina Warmack, colored, was allowed to go upon payment of the costs. The case came up from Justice Bornemann's court. Alphonso Robinson, colored, charged with vagrancy, was sentenced to 30 days on the county roads, judgment to be stricken out today if he can show that he has been at work as he claims. The defendant will likely be able to show by Messrs. J. B. Fales and R. C. Fergus that he has been at work about the Front street market house.

A LARGE THEFT OF MONEY

Over $800 In Cash Taken From Mr. Claude Murray, Union Ticket Agent, in Wilmington Yesterday Morning.

Mr. Claude Murray, the popular and efficient union ticket agent of the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line, in this city, had the misfortune yesterday morning to lose a bag containing $805 in currency, silver and a check for $50, the circumstances of the loss being such that he is satisfied that the bag was stolen by some one, who saw him put the package down for a moment or picked it up a few minutes after he left it.

Soon after the departure of the early trains from the union station yesterday morning, Mr. Murray made up his deposits and starting down town with the bag in his hand, was hailed by Mr. J. Haughton James with whom he rode in the latter's automobile to Front and Chesnut streets. The Seaboard Air Line's portion of the ticket sales, in a separate package, he took into the Southern National Bank and made the deposit as usual. He then went to The Orton and after being in the barber shop, in the basement, for a short time, he came up on the street and talking with Manager Plummer, of The Orton, for a few minutes, he went on to the postoffice, attended to some business there and dropped into the Murchison National Bank and made a deposit there for the Merchants' Transfer Co. He then left the bank and stopping for a few moments at the confectionery store of Mr. John W. Plummer, further up Front street, he had gotten almost to the A. C. L. general offices, expecting to make the deposit of something over $800 with the treasurer of the road, when he suddenly missed the package. He hastily retraced his steps to the Murchison Bank, thinking that he had for the time he had gone to the teller's window, left the package in the window, but he was dumbfounded upon his return to find no package. None of the bank officials or others in the lobby of the bank at the time could recall having seen the package and wherever it was left, it is now certain that it was picked up by some one and carried away.

The loss is a very heavy one and falls personally on Mr. Murray, who, of course, has already made the amount good with the railroad company. All day yesterday he and others worked faithfully on every clue to the robbery and hope for developments today, but until a late hour last night, nothing had been seen or heard of the package. Mr. Murray authorizes The Star to say that he will pay a liberal reward for the return of the package or for any information that will lead to its recovery. The bag contained about $30 in silver, a number of bills and the check for $50. It is hardly expected that it will be long before there is some clue to the thief, as Mr. Murray has a minute description of the money and of the contents of the bag generally.

The news of the loss of the package by Mr. Murray gave rise yesterday to a number of stories of other losses in the same way, one of which was that recently of Mr. J. H. Woolard, who subsequently recovered his pocketbook in the store of Messrs. Peck & Holloway, where it had been left on the counter inadvertently. Mr. Murray is one of Wilmington's most popular young men, is thoroughly responsible for an amount ten times as large as that lost, but his many friends hope that the money will be recovered. Officers have been put on the track of the theft, including A. C. L. detectives and it is certain that with some clues that are now being run down that there will be developments in the case very soon.

Y. M. C. A. WORKER COMES.

Member of the International Committee Will be Here Tommorrow.

Mr. W. B. Pettus, a prominent Y. M. C. A. worker, being a member of the International Committee, will arrive in the city this morning from Charlotte and will make several addresses at local churches tomorrow. He will make an address at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 11 A. M. and a number of other appointments have been arranged for him. The general theme of his address will be Student Association Work in China. He is a Southern man and went to China in 1904 and made several unusual records while there. He was under fire during the revolution and was in Shanghai when that city was captured by the revolutionists, therefore he has an intimate knowledge of the life in that country. He is a public speaker of unusual favor before business men and students. The public is cordially invited to hear him at all his appointments, which will be announced later.

TODAY WEEK UNIVERSITY DAY.

Probable That Anniversary Will be Observed in Wilmington.

The local alumni of the University of North Carolina, have received communications calling attention to the fact that Saturday, October 12th, is University Day, the occasion marking he 119th anniversary of the institution. University men everywhere always look forward to the day with keen interest. The local alumni are expected to arrange some form of observance of the day, but no steps in this direction have as yet been taken. The communication referred to reads as follows:

"Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 3, 1912.

"To the Alumni of the University of North Carolina.

"On the occasion of her 119th birthday your Alma Mater sends to each one of you, wherever you are, affectionate greetings and good wishes. Your loyalty and your ever-growing strength are her greatest pride and inspiration.

"The year that has just passed has been a good year in the history of the University. One of its best accomplishments is the re-organization of the alumni. Under the direction of the general secretary of the alumni this work has proceeded with great enthusiasm and success. Definite plans have been proposed for making alumni interest count in service to the University, and the means provided for carrying these plans out. For one thing a magazine—The Alumni Review—will be issued, the first number appearing in October. This magazine exists primarily to put the alumni in closer touch with the college. We mean for it to be interesting—what is called 'a live one'—and we want the alumni to help make it so.

"The past year has left other important marks of progress. A handsome building for the school of education, a gift from the Peabody fund, will be ready for occupancy in January. The new medical building, Caldwell Hall, now provides splendid facilities for the study of medicine. Three sections of the new dormitory are complete and filled with students. The size of the freshman class—two hundred and eighty-odd—is one indication of the imperative demands that the State is making on its University, and shows how necessary it is for every citizen, and especially every son of the institution to see to it that the means are provided for satisfying the demands.

"In view of her splendidly healthy growth the University will celebrate her birthday on October 12th, 1912, with unusual joy. At Chapel Hill the speakers will be alumni chosen by the general secretary of the alumni. In the afternoon there will be a football game; in the evening the president's reception. All of the alumni are cordially invited to come to Chapel Hill for this celebration.

"The usual local celebrations will be held at various points in the State, and throughout the country. It is not too early to appoint the local committees to look out for the success of these reunions. Getting started in time, and getting the right men on the committees are essentials in the success of the alumni 'smokers' and banquets.

"The University once more expresses to the alumni her gratitude for their never-failing support and devotion. On October 12th, as she reviews past accomplishments and faces present tasks, her thoughts turn to the magnificent body of her alumni as the source of her courage and her confident faith in the future.

"FRANCIS P. VENABLE,
"President of the University.
"WALTER MURPHY,
"General Secy. of the Alumni."

JUSTICE B. F. KING'S COURT

Interesting Civil Action Heard "In Chambers" Yesterday Afternoon

Justice B. Frank King, Jr., yesterday afternoon heard at the offices of D. R. Foster & Co., on Princess street, an interesting civil action brought by Mr. A. D. Wessell, agent, against John Simon, a Syrian, for the possession of the store at No. 6 South Front street, the plaintiff alleging that Simon had refused to sign another rent lease after October 1st. Simon was not in court personally, being in Harper's Sanitarium for treatment but his interests were looked after by William McKoy Bellamy, Esq., of John D. Bellamy & Son. Mr. Wessell was represented by L. Clayton Grant, Esq. A jury trial was demanded and Judge King empanneled the following "good men and true" to decide the issues: Messrs. W. H. Lane, R. T. Sinclair, J. H. Shelley, R. L. Farmer, W. G. Farmer and W. B. Ennett. After going into the various phases of the case, judgment was given for the plaintiff from which the defendant took an appeal to the Superior Court.

PROMINENT YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED AT CLARKTON, N. C.

Clarkton, N. C., Oct. 3.—A beautiful wedding wherein the hearts and hands of two very popular young people were united took place Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, when Miss Laura Dell Clark, of this place, became the bride of Mr. Robert Kindred Craven, of Abbottsburg. The marriage was solemnized in the handsome new Presbyterian church, prettily decorated in a color scheme of pink and green. The very impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. Lapsley, Jr., the pastor of the bride. The church was filled to overflowing with the friends and relatives, attracted thither only by loving interest in the welfare and happiness of the contracting parties.

At the appointed hour, Miss Gertrude McFadyen in her usual attractive manner sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee", by Gounod. Faithful and true the well known bridal chorus from Lohengrin was beautifully rendered by the following ladies, Mrs. O. L. Clark, Mrs. N. A. Currie, Misses Annie Neal Clark, Gertrude McFadyen, Myrtle McRae, Agnes Council, Janie Clark and Lila Williams.

At the conclusion of the chorus Mrs. M. C. Stegall at the organ, began playing the soul stirring wedding march from Mendelssohn, which announced the advent of the bridal party.

First to enter the church were the ushers, Messrs. O. L. Clark and G. H. Currie, of Clarkton; M. B. McAuley of Acme, and K. B. Council, of Wananish. The attendants entered in the following order, Misses Isabelle Cromartie and Rosa Lee Clark with Messrs. B. S. Barnes, of Maxton, and C. D. French, of Wilmington; Misses Margaret Baldwin, of Maxton, and Amelia Wooten, with Messrs. L. D. Lennon, of Abbottsburg, and Eugene Clark; Misses Bessie Russ and Emma Kelly with Messrs. A L. Breeden, of McColl, S. C., and H. C. Bridger, Jr., of Bladenboro; Misses Agnes Cromartie, of Elizabethtown, and Josie McNeill, of Lumberton, with Dr. L. B. Evans and Mr. H. H. Clark, of Wilmington.

Mrs. F. A. Harrington, gowned in white hand painted voile as dame of honor, and Miss Amanda Clark, a younger sister of the bride, and her maid of honor, wearing white chiffon over pink messaline with pearl trimmings, and carrying LaFrance rose buds, entered closely followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. E. E. Craven, of Abbottsburg, and the bride with her father.

The bride wore white brocaded satin, with court train and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

Both her gown and veil were beautifully trimmed in real lace. The bridesmaids wore dresses of pink and nile green messaline, en-train, with steel bead garnitures and carried pink carnations and asparagus ferns. They wore beads and aigrettes in their hair. The groomsmen wore full dress suits. Little Misses Sarah Wells, of Wilmington, and Louise Clark, of Clarkton, daintily clad in white with white ribbons were ribbon girls. The bride is the third daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Clark and no more popular young lady is known. The groom is a member of the firm of Clark, McAuley Co., of Abbottsburg, and is a model young man. Immediately after the marriage the bridal party were entertained at the home of the bride's parents, where, too, the color scheme of pink and green was tastefully carried out and where many handsome presents which had been received were displayed. Mr. and Mrs. Craven left on the Seaboard train No. 44 for Wilmington, thence to the western part of the State, where they will spend some time.

FINE INTEREST CONTINUES

Four Additions to Brooklyn Baptist Church Last Night

"Five Steps to Salvation" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. John W. Ham at the Brookiyn Baptist church last night. His text was, "To open their eyes that they might turn from darkness to light and the power of satan unto God, that they receive forgiveness of sins and inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in Me."

"Sin," he said, "blinds. The Bible, from beginning to end, is a history of man's moral blindness and God's attempt to enlighten. A man never hates himself until his eyes are opened to his true condition. The Gospel opens blind eyes. Our God is a God of enlightenment. The Gospel breaks the power of a personal devil and liberates a man from his sins. The devil is mighty but God is almighty. I believe intensely in a personal devil. If I did not, I would resign my call to the ministry and go join the Elks. Our God is forgiveness of sins. The cross is the beginning of religion in the soul. It pardons the past, the prodigal is welcomed back home and given his old place in the famly. This is very hard on the elder brother, but our God is a God of mercy. The Gospel offers an inheritance among them that are sanctified. Forgiveness is the first gift, inheritance is the second. Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount emphasized a present-tense blessing. The prophets before Him preached altogether in the future tense."

The congregation was large last night. There were four additions to the church and several requests for prayer.

Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock Mr. Ham will have as his theme, "The White Life," and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, "The Devil's Auction" will be his subject. The public is most cordially invited to hear this noted evangelist.

HEAVY DAMAGES SOUGHT

Action for Personal Injuries Against Waccamaw Lumber Company

Complaint was filed in Superior Court yesterday in the case of S. S. Beery against the Waccamaw Lumber Company, which has principal office and plant at Bolton. The action was started some time ago. The complaint sets forth that the plaintiff, who is 60 years old, is a skilled machinist and has been in the employ of the defendant company at its plant at Bolton; that on January 10th, 1912, when working in the machine shop of the defendant company, operating a lathe in boring out facing, and finishing pipe flanges, the plaintiff's hand was caught between the cogs of the same, the thumb and forefinger having the flesh and tendons so torn as that when it healed the sinews were drawn and contracted in such a manner as to cause the plaintiff serious and permanent injury. The amount of damages sought is $10,000. The plaintiff is represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq., and Rountree & Carr.

..Theatrical..

The merry, unprecedented popular-price musical comedy offering at the Academy of Music will be brought to a close today, when the superb attraction, which is headed by the well-known German comedians, Mills and Bernard, will present farewell performances. Today's offering will be the best yet, too because the big music show, "Hoity Toity," that is well remembered by Wilmington playgoers as one of the biggest hits of several seasons ago, will be offered. It will be presented, with special effects and scenery, at both matinee and night performances, and will, no doubt, be greeted by large audiences. In this piece the German comedians, as well as Al Watson, the exceptionally clever Hebrew comedian, have fine chance for some splendid comedy work, and they well take advantage of it. The musical numbers are of the brightest type, and the Beauty Chorus will do some particularly clever work. So today's performances, matinee and night, will be two of the very best ever at the Academy and certainly the two very best at popular prices.

The matinee prices will be 10 and 20 cents, while the night prices, as usual, will be 10, 20 and 30 cents, and seats for tonight can now be reserved at Plummer's.

Best of All Repertoire Companies

The Academy next week will again make a popular-price offering, but the one of next week will be entirely different from the one of this, and it will be nothing less than the famed Edyth Totten Company, which has created such a furore for the past several seasons in the larger cities of both the North and West. In these sections the company has gained the reputation of being the highest class and the very best in every other way repertoire organization on the road, and the star, Miss Totten, is a well-known actress. In fact, the organization is really a first-class stock company and is not at all in the class of the repertoire companies that have been touring the South. This is the company's first Southern tour and by reason of its exceptional merit and its great strength it is creating quite a sensation as a popular-price attraction. This week the attraction appeared in Winston-Salem with great success, playing to crowded houses and receiving the most flattering of notices from the press of that city. It comes from Winston to Wilmington in time to open the engagement at the Academy of Music Monday night, when the big modern success, "The Volunteer Parson" will be presented. This bill will be followed by the presentation of other big royalty plays and which will give the company chance to show its splendid dramatic power.

The prices throughout the engagement will be 10, 20 and 30 cents, and as a compliment to the ladies they will be admitted free if accompanied by persons who purchased the first 200 30-cent tickets. Reserved seats are now selling at Plummer's.

At the Grand Theatre.

"Oh, That Navajo Rag", William & VanAlstyne's great comic rag Indian song will be sung by Mr. Leonard Chick at the Grand Theatre today as a special feature of the big week-end bill. This song as rendered by Mr. Chick is guaranteed to dispel the blues at any time and patrons of the Grand should not miss it. Prof. Brown and his splendid orchestra will join in the chorus and it will be one of the big numbers of the season.

In the moveys for the week-end at the Grand there will be an especially big bill and one of the features will be "Saved From Court Martial". There is a strong patriotic vein running through this story, a portrayal of the heroism of a brave girl and a beautiful sentiment that is sublime. Then the other feature will be an Essanay, "Ghosts," a beautiful and novel dramatic subject magnificently portrayed and staged. It is one of the month's finest feature productions and the Grand is fortunate in being able to offer it today as one of the features for the big week-end at this popular play house. The Grand, of course, will have still another picture and all patrons of the theatre may be assured that nothing better was ever offered in any vaudeville house in Wilmington for the money.

At the Bijou.

Headed by a big film in which fat, clever, popular John Bunny and that charming actress, Miss Florence Turner, will star, the fascinating Bijou, the home of solid comfort, as well as glorious entertainment and where the price of admission is always 5 cents, is going to offer today the greatest show it has ever set forth, and that is saying something really wonderful. John Bunny and Miss Turner will appear in the swell comedy photoplay, "Two Cinders." It is the merriest film ever manufactured and it will convulse the onlookers. Bunny appears at his best in this story and will make folks shake their sides as he shakes his fat ones.

Another great detective story is on today, but this time the star is a heroine, and not a hero. The scenes are laid in a village, with the villain, "Smoke-Up Sam", a notorious crook. The mystery and the daring of the story are decidedly dramatic and to climax the entire tale comes a thrilling race on the rails, when the thief, who has stolen an engine, in a desperate effort to escape, is finally run to cover. It is a decidedly graphic film and one that will stir the heart. The film is called "The Grit of the Girl Telegrapher."

Another big star on today and one of the most novel is "Bumps", and it is a most fascinating one, as it tells of circus life. If there is any one thing amusement-lovers dote on above all else it is scenes of the circus. This is the best of all circus films and has two stars in the story, a young clown and "Bumps" the trained elephant.

SUPERIOR COURT YESTERDAY.

Several Cases Disposed of During the Day—Verdict for Wessell.

Several cases were disposed of in Superior Court yesterday, but none of any special interest or importance. The case of Chas. Wessell against the Wilmington, Southport & Little River Company, the trial of which was started Thursday, was given to the jury just before the noon recess yesterday and three hours later a verdict in favor of the plaintiff was returned. The plaintiff was awarded $294.20, less $22.50, the value of the coal belonging to the defendant it was claimed the plaintiff converted to his own use. The total amount sued for by the plaintiff was about $500, which he claimed as damage done his boat, the Rosa, while leased to the defendant company some years ago.

In a case of C. C. Brown against F. S. Westbrook, et al., a verdict was returned for $2,300 with interest from January 1st, 1904, less a credit of $88.86, date of March 10th, 1906. The case of J. A. Meeder against the Murchison National Bank goes off the docket by the non-suit route. Judgment was signed in the case of J. F. Johnson, trading as J. F. Johnson & Co., against W. R. Barksdale, awarding the plaintiff $463.08 alleged to be due on a promissory note. Late in the afternoon the case of M. W. Divine & Co. against the Angola Lumber Co., an action on an accounting, was taken up. The jury was selected and empanneled and taking of testimony will begin this morning. It is thought that the case will be finished at the morning session.

SNEAK THIEVES AGAIN BUSY

Residences on North Fifth and North Seventh Streets Entered

Sneak thieves seem to again have been on their rounds early yesterday morning, according to reports made to the police station where the officers are making a special effort to corral some of those responsible for the thefts. At a residence on North Fifth street, about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, a sneak thief boldly entered through a window and stole from a silver purse hanging near the window several dollars and made his escape.

Some time during the night a thief went to the home of Mrs. Caroline H. Holmes, No. 9 North Seventh street, and gained entrance to the kitchen by cutting out a wire screen from the window and crawling through. Fortunately the kitchen was locked from the other part of the house and the thief stole only a small amount of money from a purse in the kitchen.

The pastors of all the churches are urgently requested to be present at 8 o'clock sharp."

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

COTTON MAKES GOOD ADVANCE

An Early Gain Was Followed by a Partial Reaction, But Prices Firmed Up and Closed at 8 to 19 Points Higher.

New York, Oct. 4.—An early advance in the cotton market was followed by a partial reaction, but prices firmed up again in the late trading on storm apprehensions, and renewed covering, with the close firm at a net advance of 8 to 19 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 7 points and active months soon sold 7 to 12 points net higher on covering by sellers of yesterday afternoon, support from trade sources, and scattered buying inspired by the larger English spot sales, and weather reports. After the publication of the weather predictions the market turned a shade easier under realizing by early buyers. During the middle of the day prices sold off 6 or 7 points from the best. There was still enough apprehension over the reports of a more active trade demand and the weather situation, however, to prevent any aggressive selling on a scale downward. When reports that a storm warning had been ordered for the South Atlantic coast reached the market, prices sold into new high ground for the movement on an active demand for both accounts.

Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best, with the active months 15 to 19 points net higher. Week-end figures showed raher a smaller into-sight movement than expected, but were hardly a factor on the late advance.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Favorable Weather Has Had A Depressing Effect on Prices—Big Crop Expected This Year—Exports Behind

New York, October 4.—Prices have declined under the influence of more favorable weather, big receipts, large ginning in Texas and a condition of the crop very close to that of last year, which produced the largest yield on record. There has been large selling from all quarters. Frost has not done any particular damage. Spot interests at times have been heavy sellers. So has Wall Street as well as Southern and Western and Waldorf-Astoria interests in the belief that the crop will approximate 15,000,000 bales.

There is a widespread conviction that this season's crop is going to be so large that despite the improvement in the trade at home and abroad there will be a plethora of supplies and a corresponding decline in prices. The spot markets have not shown much life. Big trade interests have been looking for lower prices and have acted accordingly.

While some are claiming that Texas might raise from 4,250,000 bales to 4,500,000 bales, bulls insist the crop there will not exceed, if it reaches, 4,000,000. Attention is all called to the fact that spot interests have latterly been less. The bulls maintain that the short interest has reached an unwieldly size and a crop scare such as may occur at any time might easily produce a bear stampede and a sharp advance in prices.

Spinners abroad are engaged for many months to come and show a disposition to protect themselves by purchases of not only the actual cotton, but of futures. Business in the United States is also brisk. The mills are doing a very profitable trade. They are encouraged by the general expansion of American business.

The crop east of the Mississippi is late and the size of the yield depends very much, therefore, on the date of killing frost.

Exports this season are considerably behind those of a year ago. Spinners, however, in some cases show a disposition to buy as prices are only about one cent higher than a year ago.

EUROPE A FACTOR IN STOCKS

Latest Developments In the Balkans Precipitated Heavy Selling of American Securities Abroad. Close Encouraging.

New York, Oct. 4.—Europe was again the foremost factor in today's stock market. Latest developments in the Balkans precipitated heavy selling of American securities abroad, much of which had to be taken here. London's closing quotations for American stocks were highly encouraging, with gains of a point or more in Atchison, Canadian Pacific and St. Paul. These all were duplicated here, the first hour's business being on an extensive scale, but local selling for profits and the short account soon arrested the rise. Later, on offerings from abroad, the entire market sagged and before the close little was left of the early rise. The closing was active and heavy. Money conditions were favorable to the market. Not only did call and time money rates relax, but American bankers cancelled a large part of the gold engaged in London during the week. This was accepted as proof of improvement in the money situation. Additional shipments of currency to New Orleans were announced, making the total more than $1,500,000 for the week.

August railroad returns included Chesapeake & Ohio, with a net increase of $113,000.

The bond market moved with stocks showing initial firmness and later irregularity. Total sales, par value, were $2,530,000. United States government registered 2s advanced 1-8 per cent. on call. Total sales stocks today were 769,800 shares.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

No Complaints Heard of Any Deficiency In Trade

New York, Oct. 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

In no section is definite complaint of deficiency in trade now heard, while in most sections there is pronounced buoyancy, with the volume of business in excess of former years, an urgent demand for immediate delivery and a satisfactory demand for future delivery reaching well into next year.

A slight check is noted in new business in finished steel, but specifications continue heavy and the rate of production is close to capacity.

In dry goods, jobbers report a steadier and broader distribution, with an improvement noted in the demand for cottons, and business in woolens and worsteds. Retail trade in cotton goods shows greater activity in various sections of the country and re-orders for Fall goods are being sent in steadily.

Sales of printclothes at Fall River have run ahead of the output and many Southern mills have sold their production up to the end of the year. Worsted yarns have been bought liberally and, while cotton yarns are steady, sales are moderate.

Business in footwear continues to improve and manufacturers now feel quite encouraged regarding the outlook for Spring.

working men and no party that cannot get the confidence, that cannot retain the confidence of working men, ought to call itself a National party at all.

"I am not deceiving myself by believing that this man spoke the general feeling. I am sure he spoke only an individual feeling. I believe just between you and me that he spoke that feeling which is making some men break away from all the older parties in the United States, for the great growth of Socialism in this country is the growth of protest more than anything else."

GREENSBORO AFFAIRS

Kitchin and Brooks Speak — Other Speakings—Robbery

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 4.—Representative Claude Kitchin and former Solicitor A. L. Brooks, of this district, spoke to an audience of approximately 500 people here last night in the interest of Governor Kitchin's candidacy for United States Senatorship. Both speakers attacked Senator Simmons' record. Both declared at the outset that they had no word to say against Senator Simmons' personal record; that "it is his official record we are after." Mr. Kitchin's speech was perhaps the most bitter of the two, though neither the Congressman nor the former Solicitor minced words in referring to Simmons' record, especially his votes on lumber, etc. They charged that Simmons' campaign in North Carolina was based upon falsehoods. Senator Simmons' integrity as a Senator was attacked and the assertion that he would be made leader of the Senate if returned denounced as foolish and ridiculous. The audience was with the speakers and their remarks were punctuated with applause and much handclapping and stamping of feet.

Walter Clark, son of W. M. Clark, who conducts the Rocky Knoll dairy, in Guilford county, reported to the police late last night that he had been robbed of $50 by four men, supposedly negroes, while on his way home. It is alleged that Clark left last evening on train No. 35; that he returned on No. 12 shortly after 1 o'clock and securing his horse and buggy, which he had left at a livery stable, started home. He says that just as he passed Jacksonville, a negro village a few miles from Greensboro, four men—he believes them to be negroes—stepped in front of him and with drawn pistols demanded his money. Clark alleges that they robbed him of $50 and that he then came to town and reported the affair.

Appointments for Democratic candidates in Guilford have been made out and an effort made to have the candidates of the Progressive party meet the Democrats in joint debate. A formal challenge will be issued probably tomorrow, but it is not believed that any of the opponents of the Democrats will accept.

PROF. CLEMENT DEAD

Esteemed Eastern Carolina Citizen Passed Away Yesterday

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wallace, N. C., Oct. 4.—There is sincere sadness today in the entire town and community over the death of Mr. Samuel Wilson Clement, the most beloved and honored citizen of Wallace, who died at his home here this morning at 3 o'clock. He has been in failing health for some time, and his death, while expected, is none the less sorrowful to his many friends who love him almost as a father.

Mr. Clement was born in Granville county, N. C., and was in his 79th year. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Margaret Spear, who died in 1865. In 1867 he was married to Miss Anna Bryan, who survives him. He is also survived by seven children, Messrs. Jno. B. Clement, of Spartanburg, S. C.; W. J. Clement, with the U. S. Army in California; Phillip M. Clement, of Charleston, S. C.; R. T. Clement, of Wilmington; W. J. Clement, of Goldsboro, and Misses Jennie Gooch and Anna Bryan Clement.

Mr. Clement was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1859, and spent his life as a teacher. His idea of teaching was primarily the building of character, and he was untiring in his efforts to reach his ideals. He prepared many of the leading men and women in the State for college, and some of the minds that he has trained for the problems of life are today solving the problems of a nation in our Senate halls.

Mr. Clement was an elder in Duplin Roads Presbyterian church and he lived a life that was worthy as an example to those who were around him. He was a Christian gentleman, and whatever of goodness, whatever of purity, may be found in this community is due more to him than to any other one man.

The funeral service was held at the grave this afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. M. P. Currie, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Large Audience Heard Attorney General In Bladen's Metropolis

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., Oct. 4.—A large and appreciative audience composed of both ladies and gentlemen heard with pleasure Attorney General Bickett, of Raleigh, in a speech filled both with humor and sound Democratic doctrine. The distinguished speaker has a manner all his own of illustrating very pointedly and instructively the arguments used for the advancement of Democracy. He went to Chadbourn for an address tonight.

MAY WITHDRAW TAFT'S CARD

Bricklayers Resent Laying Cornerstone on Non-Union Job

Boston, Oct. 3.—Because President Taft laid the cornerstone of the new home of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association yesterday Chicago Bricklayers' Union No. 23 has been asked to withdraw the card of honorary membership it recently gave him.

The request was voted last night by Boston Bricklayers' Union No. 3 on the ground that the building was being erected by non-union labor.

SENSATION IN CRUSADE.

Judge Demands Key to Report of Vice Commission.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The crusade against vice conducted by State's Attorney John E. Wayman late today took a startling turn when at the request of the State's attorney, Judge Henry C. Moran, of the municipal court, issued subpoenas duces tecum for the production of the key to the report of the vice commission which was made public about two weeks ago. The key has since remained in the archives of the commission.

When the report was published it contained much information of a startling nature regarding vice conditions. Many inmates and resort keepers furnished most of this information, their identities being concealed through the medium of numerals in place of names.

In order to have the benefit of this information the subpoenas were issued against Dean Walter T. Sumner, of St. Peter and St. Paul Cathedral, and Edwin W. Sims, former United States district attorney here. Mr. Sims was the secretary of the commission.

In response to the subpoena Mr. Sims appeared in Judge Moran's court and made a vigorous effort to prevent the production of the vice report key. He explained that when the commission disbanded in 1910, the key, which virtually is a directory of all the owners, keepers, disorderly hotels and their inmates in the city, was placed in the hands of a committee of five, of which he is a member. The information, he said, was not obtained for the purpose of prosecution, but was the result of private investigation to ascertain and given in the belief that the commission would not divulge the names. It was finally agreed that Mr. Sims should speak to the other members of his committee and see if they were willing the key should be given to the prosecutor's office.

"The evidence is in existence and we have a right to use it as long as the defendants do not have to take the stand against themselves," Assistant State's Attorney Arnold said. "We want to use it in all the cases where it will be admissible as evidence."

Judge Moran continued the case until Monday, when, if the commission still is determined not to release the key, legal arguments would have to be made.

Thirty-five resort keepers were arrested by the police tonight as the result of State's Attorney Wayman's vice crusade.

FARM DEMONSTRATIONS.

Howard Gross Thinks This is Best Way to Improve Farming.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—In an address before the National Conservation Congress, Howard H. Gross, president of the National Soil Fertility League, today said that the placing in each county throughout the country of a trained farm demonstrator was the best possible plan for improvement of agriculture in the United States.

"Experience has shown that the issuing of bulletins by the Department of Agriculture and the experiment stations have little influence on the farmer," said Mr. Gross, "They are not written in the language of the farm; they have comparatively no value in reaching the actual tiller of the soil.

"We have our farmers' institutes and the railways run their lecture trains. These have done some good, but they have all fallen woefully short of meeting the situation.

"The farmers are tired of talk, talk, talk; they demand something more. Show them a concrete example to prove your contention and if the results are satisfactory they become immediately interested.

"Hence, the time has come when this vast fund of useful knowledge must be taken to the farmer in the personality of a farm demonstrator, who will meet the farmer on his own land and show him how to understand and apply, the best methods known to science; talk must go over into action. We must reach the present farmer.

"To this end the National Soil Fertility League was organized for the purpose of creating a general and more vital interest in the subject of agricultural development and to secure the co-operation of the Federal government and the several States, through the colleges of agriculture, upon a plan that will ultimately place in every county a trained farm demonstrator to assist the farmer to understand and apply the latest and best methods of cultivation of their fields. This is accepted as the best possible plan and rapid progress has been made in inaugurating it."

CONGRESS CLOSES

Weather Bureau Chief Speaks on "The Story of the Air"

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—The Fourth National Conservation Congress, after a four-day meeting here, adjourned late today. Invitations were received from Knoxville and Chautauqua, N. Y., for the fifth meeting of the congress. The selection, however, was left to the executive committee. Resolutions reported placed special emphasis upon the conservation of human life through better health conditions and eugenics.

Professor Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, spoke today on the "story of the air."

"As long as we have the Gulf of Mexico to the south of us," said Mr. Moore, "we shall have floods. The warm air coming up from the gulf meets the cooler air from the north, causing condensation and rain. Therein lies the cause of floods, and the forests, rather the lack of forests, has nothing to do with it."

Governor H. S. Hadley, of Missouri, scheduled to speak, did not arrive.

ble in the vicinity. The Amerika then proceeded on her voyage to Southampton and Cherbourg on her way to New York.

This is the sixth disaster to British submarines, each of them cut in two, entailing losses of from 11 to 15 lives.

Late this evening divers located the submarine in 20 fathoms of water and attached chains to the wreck. They are hopeful that they will be able to raise her.

Collision Unavoidable, Says Officer

Southampton, Oct. 4.—The second officer of the steamship Amerika on his arrival here this afternoon, said he was on the bridge at the time of the collision with the submarine "B-2." The Amerika was proceeding on her course when the red light of the submarine, which had just come to the surface, was seen. An effort was made to avoid the collision, but too late, and the submarine broke in two like a match. She sank immediately. Boats were lowered from the liner, but failed to find any of the crew.

ROB PASSENGER TRAIN

Three Men Hold Up K. C. S. Train And Get Quantity of Loot

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 4.—Three masked men held up and robbed northbound Kansas City Southern passenger train No. 4 three miles northeast of Poteau, Oklahoma tonight and after opening two safes in the express car with nitro-glycerine escaped with a large quantity of loot, including registered mail.

The train was brought to a halt near Poteau by the application of the airbrakes. Simultaneously two of the robbers made their appearance in the express and baggage car, forced the express messenger, baggage man and conductor behind a pile of trunks and applied their explosive to the safes while the third bandit stood guard outside the car. When entrance was forced to the safes the men gathered the valuables in a gunny sack, and after intimidating the clerks in the mail car, added all the registered mail in sight to their loot. They escaped to the mountains. Passengers were not molested.

NEGROES TO ATLANTA.

Assailants of White Girl Carried There by Militia—Hang Oct. 25th.

Cumming, Ga., Oct. 4.—The four companies of State militia on guard here during the trials of the negroes accused of assault and murder of a white girl, returned to Atlanta today, taking the negroes back with them. Ernest Knox and Oscar Daniel, who were convicted yesterday, today were sentenced to be hanged October 25th. The case of Toney Howell, another of the prisoners, was continued until the regular term of court and the other three were held as material witnesses.
